

Now enrolling: Project Onramp Summer 2020

Project Onramp creates paid summer internships for low-income students in Massachusetts, helping to bridge the opportunity gap for these promising young people.

Project Onramp host companies commit or create internships for our students. You can set aside an established internship for Onramp candidates, or create new positions for Onramp to fill. Internships are not limited to STEM-related roles—we can match you with talented candidates with interest in business development, administration, HR, finance, IT, marketing, etc. We will send you several great resumes for each internship position, and you use your existing review and hiring processes to choose the student who best fits your needs.

All Project Onramp interns are high-performing college students supported by Bottom Line's College & Career coaches. Learn more about Bottom Line's model and success at www.bottomline.org.

If you are committed to creating a more diverse pipeline of students exploring careers at your company, please consider taking a Project Onramp intern next summer. Contact Lila Neel at lila@lifesciencecares.org to discuss.
