

PROJECT ONRAMP

A PROGRAM OF LIFE SCIENCE CARES

Now Enrolling: Project Onramp Summer 2024

Project Onramp creates access to paid summer internships for college students who are under-resourced and often from under-represented groups or first-generation -- helping to bridge the opportunity gap for these promising young people. We operate in Boston, New York, Philadelphia San Diego and the San Francisco Bay Area.

Project Onramp host companies commit or create internships for these high-performing students. You can set aside an established internship for Onramp candidates, or create new positions for Onramp to fill. Internships are not limited to STEM-related roles—we can match you with talented candidates with interest in business development, administration, HR, finance, IT, marketing, etc. We will send you several resumes for each internship position, and you will use your existing review and hiring processes to choose the student who best fits your needs.

There is no fee associated with being part of Project Onramp, but we do ask that you pay students a minimum of $20/hr. for summer 2024.

If you are committed to creating a more diverse pipeline of students exploring careers at your company, please consider taking a Project Onramp intern next summer. Please contact Lila Neel, at lila@lifesciencecares.org to discuss.

Project Onramp is a signature program of Life Science Cares, a collective effort of the life science industry to disrupt the cycle of poverty and inequality in our communities.
